HOW TO USE THE DIRECTORY

When no city is named the address of the alumnus is Chicago.

To find the class and degree of an alumnus consult the alphabetical index.

To find the names of alumni by cities and states consult the geographical index.

The degrees enumerated in this Directory are those conferred prior to July 1, 1910.

Except in the case of Bachelors of Divinity complete information is given only with the highest degree.

The University year runs from July 1 to July 1. Graduates in the Summer Quarter will find themselves classified under the numerals of the following year.

Alumnae who have married since graduation will be found recorded under the name which appears on their diploma. This is followed by the married name. In the indices the married name is given first.

The degree of Bachelor of Education is no longer given for work in the School of Education. The degree of Bachelor of Theology was given only from 1888 to 1892 by the Baptist Union Theological Seminary.

Convenience in reference has governed the arrangement of information. Doctors of Philosophy are classified alphabetically under their departments, the year of graduation being subsidiary to the major subject. The Bachelors, on the other hand, are classified by years. An alphabetical arrangement was found most desirable for Doctors of Law and Bachelors of Laws

HISTORICAL DATA

The present University of Chicago opened on October 1, 1892.

William Rainey Harper began his work as president on July 1, 1891. He died on January 10, 1906. Harry Pratt Judson was chosen president February 20, 1907.

The University was incorporated September 10, 1890. In 1889 Mr. John D. Rockefeller pledged $600,000, provided $400,000 was raised by June 1, 1890, which was done.

The Law School began its work October 1, 1902.

Judge Stephen C. Douglas in 1854 donated ten acres of land north of Thirty-fifth Street and west of Cottage Grove Avenue as the site for the first University of Chicago. This University was incorporated January 30, 1857, and classes met continuously from September, 1858 to 1886.

Jesse Dismukes Burks, '93, now director of the Bureau of Municipal Research of Philadelphia, was the first man to receive a diploma at the hands of President Harper.

The attendance at the University in July, 1910, reached 2,860.

The first building to be erected was Cobb Hall, which was built in 1892 at a cost of $221,956.03.

The "Alma Mater" was written by Edwin H. Lewis, Ph.D., '94, and set to music by Paul Mandeville, Ph.B., '98.

The William Rainey Harper Memorial Library is being built at a cost of nearly $700,000. Contributions to this fund were received from 1,500 alumni. The library will be 248 feet long east to west, and 60 feet north to south, and will have room for one million books.

For the year 1908-1909 the total number of students enrolled for the four quarters of the University year was 5,487, which gave Chicago third place among the universities of the country, Columbia and Harvard only having more. Chicago also ranked second with 441 students in the graduate schools, and first in the number of doctorate degrees conferred. In the number of living alumni, Michigan was first and Chicago twelfth. Out of the total number of 5,695 alumni of the new University of Chicago, only about 100 are deceased.
